It is my great pleasure to congratulate you on your success in gaining a place at the school and to formally welcome you to The Langton family.

Whilst you may be a little daunted by the changes to come, I feel certain that you will quickly adapt to the ways of the school and will very quickly feel that you have been here forever.

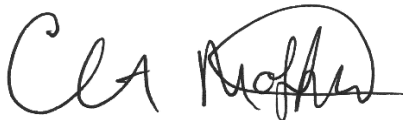

Whether your expertise lies in the classroom, the sports field or elsewhere, we have a host of opportunities to interest and stimulate you and help you to grow into the well-rounded individual that we count as the product of a Langton education.

May you wear your blazer with pride in the anticipation of seven years that you will remember and look back on with pleasure for the rest of your life.

I look forward to welcoming you to the school and watching your personal and academic development over the coming years.

Once again, my warmest congratulations,

Yours sincerely,

Ken Moffat

Head Teacher
